In Woman's World.

Uhat gift would I give to this country for its benefit and future welfare as a Christmas Gift, were it in my power? says Mrs. Frederick Schoff, president of the National Congress of Mothers, in a symposium, "If I Were a National Santa Claus," I would make it possible for every child to have a square deal all the time, every day, from intancy to manhood, in every home and in every kind of community. How could that be done? The first requisite would be to provide the opportunity for every father and mother to learn more of what they owe their children; to appreciate and understand the physical and spiritual laws which must be followed if children are to come up to the highest possibilities of the race. I would prevent the sacrifice of infants' lives by providing clear, accurate instruction for every new mother in the physical requirements of babies. I would prevent the later sacrifice of health in schools and factories, by the education of every parent as to the permanent injury inflicted by overtaxing the organs which are yet in process of development. I would prevent juvenile crime by education of parents and the community in the provision of all that goes to develop the good qualities that exist in every child. Juvenile crime is a reflection on the methods and care given to children. It is preventable. Parental ignorance, crowded tenements, physical degeneracy and lack of space for contributing causes. The welfare of the children exceeds all other matters in its importance to the future welfare of the contributing causes. Miss Edna Cohn entertained about 40 friends this week at a luncheon, followed by cards, for her sister, Mrs. Hugo W. Druhel. Decorations were of pink carnations. At the game which followed the lunch the hostess was assisted by Miss May Critchlow, Mrs. M. E. Lipman, Mrs. F. A. Druehl and Mrs. M. E. Oglesby.

It is of national interest My gift to the country would be an endowment as large as is necessary to establish and conduct the national university for the welfare of the child with branches everywhere. The National Congress of Mothers has the work already under way. The help is cagerly sought. It needs to be placed on a permanent basis, with means to do the work in education for this has the product of problem. which, as yet no adequate provision has been made.

In one home where there are several half-grown children, last year's Christmas breakfast will always be remeinbered. The plain baked apple which was at each plate when the family sat down were a holiday look simply because a top of each way a tiny day of cause a top of each was a tiny dab of thick cream in which was set a large red candied cherry. It was unusual and everybody noticed it.

That was what the mother of the family wanted, and she was—as most mothers would be—quite repaid for the thought. With the cereal ways passed, low glass dish filled with curly shavings of maple sugar. These had simply been cut from a cake of rather soft maple sugar with a sharp knife. It was the first time it had ever been so served in the family, and the little folks especially were delighted. Though nothing but boiled eggs formed the principal dish, these came to the table cuddled down in a nest made of Christmas reconsting particular sprays left. greens—in reality, little sprays left from the trimming of the house. It was arranged on a medium-sized meat platter, the green sprays being piled sufficiently high at the edges to make the nest quite realistic. You can im-agine how it delighted the children.— The Delineator.

Make a stuffing for turkey of a large eupful of crums, seasoning with pars-ley, sweet marjoram and thyme, and moisten with melted butter. Chop twenty small cysters fine and mix with the dressing. If you prefer, you may leave the cysters whole. With this stuffing fill the breast of the turkey.
